

Ehrlichman Tells Of Days As Nixon Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tears welling in his eyes, John D. Ehrlichman testified at the Watergate cover-up trial that he rejected offers of help from Richard M. Nixon when the former President asked for his resignation.

In one of the most emotional moments of the trial, Ehrlichman cried while describing his last meeting with Nixon before resigning as a Nixon aide.

Chief prosecutor James F. Neal today begins cross examining Ehrlichman, one of five defendants in the conspiracy trial.

Before or after cross examination, Ehrlichman's lawyer, William S. Frates, planned to play about three hours of White House tape recordings not yet heard by the jury.

In the final minutes of Frates' direct examination of his client, Ehrlichman was asked about repeated testimony that the original seven Watergate defendants were paid $429,000 in cash in exchange for not telling what they knew about the break-in.

His voice booming, Frates asked: "Did you ever learn of paying anyone hush money to keep them silent?"

Ehrlichman: "Absolutely not."

Frates: "Did you obstruct justice in any way?"

Ehrlichman replied, "I certainly didn't intend to and I certainly don't think I did."

Instead, insisted the 49-year-old lawyer, he repeatedly recommended until his resignation April 30, 1973 that Nixon make public disclosure of the facts of Watergate.

It was Ehrlichman's description of his final meeting with Nixon which caused him to break down on the witness stand.

Ehrlichman quoted the former president as saying he regretted asking Ehrlichman to quit because "I had been or tried to be his conscience."

The witness then testified that Nixon said he wished he had followed Ehrlichman's advice and "on reflection my judgment had been correct."

At that point, Nixon offered to help him with attorney's fees if necessary, Ehrlichman said. He said Nixon told him "he had a large sum of money available to him and he would like to have me share it."

Ehrlichman testified, "I told him I could not accept that offer or anything like it."

At that point, Ehrlichman's voice began to break but he quoted Nixon as asking "if there were anything else he could do for me." Ehrlichman said he replied, "I said some day I would like him to explain to our children ..."

With that, Ehrlichman was unable to continue except to whisper "excuse me" into a microphone. His face turning red, Ehrlichman took a sip of water, wiped his glasses and U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica called a recess.

On his return to the stand, Ehrlichman said he asked the former president could he "explain to our children why he was asking him to leave."

New Administrator Hired By Hospital

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

Mayor Frank Barnhill, president of the Berger Hospital Board of Governors, announced today that Charles D. Rideout has been appointed to succeed John Reid as Administrator of the hospital. The board made the decision after Reid submitted his resignation to accept the administrator's position at Lancaster-Fairfield County Hospital.

Reid will remain at Berger until Jan. 1 at which time Rideout's appointment becomes effective.

A native of Scioto County, Rideout is presently administrator of Pike County Hospital in Waverly. He has served in this capacity for the past nine years. Prior to the appointment to the Pike County Hospital in 1966, he was administrator at the Veterans Memorial Hospital in Pomeroy for one and a half years. His first administrative position was at a 45-bed hospital in Portsmouth, Rideout's home town. He served in this position for nine years also.

Part of his two-year tour with the United States Army in 1951-53 was served in the Medical Corps.

He comes to Berger with nearly 20 years of administrative background and says he sees great potential for growth and increased patient service

See Resignation Of Kissinger

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger will resign "sometime in 1975" rather than become embroiled in a 1976 re-election campaign with President Ford, according to columnist James Reston of The New York Times.

"My guess is Kissinger will go on his own because his whole concept of a nonpartisan base of foreign diplomacy will be destroyed if he becomes too deeply involved in the '76 election," Reston said during a speech here.

"Ford probably will not be able to campaign on the economy," he added, "and that will leave foreign policy. If Kissinger stays, he is bound to be caught up in that strategy."

here. Berger is presently a 57-bed medical facility and is undergoing a mammoth expansion and building program.

Rideout is a member of the Ohio Hospital Association, American Hospital Association and the Government Liaison Committee of the Ohio Hospital Association. He serves as vice-chairman of the Central District Ohio Hospital Association and chairman of the Southern District Blue Cross of Central Ohio Advisory Committee. He is past president of the Waverly Lions Club, the Pike County Cancer Unit and the Pike County United Fund.

He and his wife Georgia hope to move to the Circleville community as soon as possible. They presently live in Waverly with their three children, Charles L., Sherri and Jason.

The new administrator said he would continue all the present programs at the direction of the board and said Berger Hospital would continue to grow with the cooperation of the community and those associated with the hospital.

Ford Speaks On Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is meeting with senior advisers to work out final details of a speech tonight assuring businessmen they can be confident in the nation's economy despite recession and inflation.

Ford summoned his top economic advisers to the White House today to iron out a final draft of the address he will deliver before the prestigious Business Council at 9 p.m. EST.

The three major television networks have not decided whether to carry the speech live, spokesmen said. The White House has not officially requested coverage but is leaving it up to the networks, said Press Secretary Ron Nessen.

On a return trip Tuesday night from Ford's visit to New York, Nessen said eight drafts of the speech had been prepared, but Ford apparently rejected all of them.

"Regardless of what else is in it, there will be a strong component of assuring businessmen that they have reason to be confident in the future of the nation's economy," Nessen said.

Meanwhile, Congress moved toward quick action on bills to aid unemployed persons through emergency programs providing up to 300,000 public service jobs and extending unemployment compensation benefits.

An emergency unemployment compensation bill was approved Tuesday by a unanimous House Ways and Means Committee while the Rules Committee cleared the way for House action on legislation authorizing $2 billion for public service hiring.

Talks were under way to bring Senate and House versions of the legislation in line for consideration before final adjournment next week.

The unemployment compensation bill would provide benefits for up to 13 weeks a year for two years for jobless workers. Most states presently pay a maximum of 26 weeks of state-financed jobless benefits, while a federal-state program provides another 13 weeks of payments to persons in states with high unemployment. The bill would add another 13 weeks.

The public service jobs bill would expand jobless benefits in addition to authorizing public service employment funds. It would provide up to 26 weeks of benefits for an estimated 2.25 million jobless workers in industries not covered by unemployment compensation, chiefly farm and domestic workers and state and local government employees.

The measure, approved by the House Education and Labor Committee before endorsement by the Rules panel, would authorize $2 billion for a one-year program for hiring up to 300,000 workers in state and local government jobs.

In other economic developments: —The Commerce Department reported that retail sales dropped by 1 per cent last month despite the approach of the busy holiday shopping season.

—The Xerox Corp. said it will shut down 10 of its facilities nationwide for a two-week period beginning Dec. 23 and will permanently lay off about 700 employes in late January. The shutdown, first in the company's history, will affect 6,000 workers.

Energy Policy Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of Exxon, the nation's largest oil company, says the government's recent "Project Independence" report is overoptimistic when it claims the United States could eliminate oil imports by 1985.

William T. Slick, senior vice president of Exxon, said the report overestimated by millions of barrels a day the nation's ability to increase oil production.

Slick spoke Tuesday at public hearings on energy policy. The hearings, sponsored by the Cabinet-level Energy Resources Council, are in preparation for forthcoming policy recommendations to President Ford.

Ford's energy advisers are meeting Saturday at Camp David, Md., to map those recommendations.

In other testimony at the hearings, a natural gas company official predicted that gas shortages would force service curtailment to residential users three or four years from now. His prediction was contradicted by the chairman of the Federal Power Commission.

Most energy industry witnesses urged an end to federal regulation of natural gas pricing, the removal of petroleum price controls, increased offshore oil and gas leasing, and a "balancing" of environmental regulations with energy needs.

The Project Independence report, prepared by the Federal Energy Administration, was too optimistic, Slick said.

He said Exxon estimated the nation could at best reduce oil imports from around 7 million barrels per day at the present to no less than 2.4 million by 1985.

$900,000 Disappears From City

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than $900,000 belonging to the city government has disappeared through a Swiss bank in an elaborate scheme to defraud the city of more than $2.5 million, Dist Atty. Joseph P. Busch says.

"It's an inside job," Busch said Tuesday. "The money's gone. We know that in Switzerland the money went into an account. It was taken out of the account. We don't know who got the money. We don't know where it has gone or who received it."

The complex computer plot involved the theft of city checks, which were then made out to fictitious corporate accounts and the funds transferred to Switzerland. Nine checks are still missing.

Authorities called the fraud "a highly skillful criminal assault on the treasury of Los Angeles."

A source in the investigation told newsmen that the FBI will be asked today to enter the case.

Busch said that a city check for $902,125 had been cashed at a Swiss bank. City officials, including Mayor Tom Bradley, previously had denied the city would be out any money.

Two men have been arrested and charged with conspiracy, forgery, attempted theft and attempted receipt of stolen property, but in a further twist one was released Monday after a computer foulup that reduced his bond from $100,000 to $15,000. Three other persons are sought by authorities.

Siamese Twins Hospitalized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Siamese twins Clara and Alta Rodriguez are both back in Children's Hospital, to recover from an intestinal virus.

The 16-month-old sisters, joined at the pelvis since birth, were separated surgically on Sept. 18. They were released Thanksgiving Day.

Alta was hospitalized last week for emergency surgery to remove an intestinal obstruction that developed after she caught an intestinal virus. Clara was admitted Monday night suffering from the same type of flu and diarrhea, according to a hospital spokesman.

panies, startled some observers with his prediction of residential gas curtailments in three or four years.

Federal Power Commission Chairman John N. Nassikas, one of the government representatives at the hearings, did not respond but later told a reporter that Boyd was too pessimistic. The FPC, which regulates interstate gas pipelines, foresees no danger of cuts in residential service, Nassikas said.

F. Donald Hart, president of the American Gas Association, an industry organization, urged the end of federal regulation of natural gas and estimated it would lead to gas price increases of about 6 per cent a year "until price stability is reached."

Hart did not say how long it would take for the price to stabilize.

Grain Is Food Price Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — The size of next year's grain crop will be an important factor in determining how long the sharp rise in food costs continues, Agriculture Department economists said today.

Given average weather, 1975 corn yields could rebound sharply from losses this year induced by late planting and drought, James J. Naive, a grain expert, told the department's National Agriculture Outlook Conference.

Next year's yield could range from 87 to 97 bushels per acre, compared to less than 73 per acre this year, Naive said.

"This range could produce a record corn crop, and total feed grain production would bounce back 30 to 50 per cent above this year's 165 million tons," Naive said. "With these levels, grain prices would back off from the record highs we are experiencing now and are apt to continue experiencing for the next several months."

Farmers soon will be deciding how much acreage to plant for 1975, Naive said in prepared remarks.

A similar linkage between crop production and retail food prices was described earlier in the session by J. Dawson Ahalt, an Agriculture Department economist.

Ahalt said supermarket prices through next June could continue to climb at the same rate they have this year. But in the last half of 1975, there could be significant leveling of prices if the weather cooperates, production increases and over-all economic activity slackens, he said.

Poor weather this year chewed deeply into grain production, meaning soaring prices for corn and other ingredients needed to feed cattle, hogs and poultry.

The result was lower supplies of some favorite food items and rising retail prices, government farm economists said.

Milk production is an example. Dairy farmers, along with other animal feed users, have been hurt severely by rising costs and have reacted by trimming cow herds.

"Although up this fall, milk production may turn down this winter and through the first half of 1975 as dairy farmers reduce feeding of high-cost grain and concentrates," Robert R. Miller, a department dairy expert said.

"The cost-price squeeze facing dairy farmers will probably be with us through early 1975," Miller said.

George Hoffman, a department livestock economist, said larger sales of cattle which have been fed less grain will continue to keep beef supplies plentiful on retail counters. But he said producers of hogs and lambs will cut back output so that the total amount of meat available next year may not change much.

"In this event, retail meat prices will rise if consumer demand holds up as expected," Hoffman said. How the crop situation shapes up next spring also will have an important bearing.

Wind, Rain, Snow Hit Plains Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wind, rain and snow spilled out of Texas into the central Plains and Mississippi Valley today as a moisture-filled Gulf Coast storm swirled inland.

A separate Pacific storm system scattered rain and snow over much of the Northwest and ranged into California and the northern Rockies.

Gale warnings flew along the upper Texas coast where high seas churned by 40-to 50-mile-per-hour winds pounded shore areas. To the north, travel advisories were posted for most of Oklahoma in advance of an expected snowfall of up to 3 inches.

Showers and thunderstorms drenched eastern Texas and Louisiana. Rain extended from eastern Oklahoma to Mississippi and north into Kansas and Missouri.

Fog drifted over parts of California, central Texas and the Midwest before dawn.

DRIVER INJURED—Twenty-one-year-old John Melvin Wipert, Chillicothe, was transferred to University Hospital, Columbus, for injuries sustained in a single-truck accident, 6:47 p.m. Tuesday on Route 104. Wipert was traveling north on 104, when he drove off the right side of the road, and struck a tree head-on. Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt arrived at the scene and removed Wipert from the vehicle, who had been pinned for some time in the wreckage. Wipert told authorities that he apparently fell asleep. Deputy Holt is continuing the investigation of the accident.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes that President Ford is about to announce strong anti-recession measures prompted a second consecutive stock market advance today. Trading was moderate.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.58 to 601.45, coming on top of a 13.93-point rally Tuesday. Gainers outnumbered losers by about a 7-4 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said Wall Street was looking forward to Ford's economic address scheduled for tonight amid indications the government was beginning to turn its attention to the deepening recession. There also was a carry-over of enthusiasm over the Federal Reserve's recent cut in its discount rate to 7 1/4 per cent.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up 0.23 at 59.13.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common issues rose 0.54 to 36.07.

Letters To Santa Tell Hopes, Desires

NEW YORK (AP) — Some are written on torn pieces of paper with frayed edges. Some are handwritten in bright crayon colors. Many are unsigned and unstamped. But they all begin: "Dear Santa."

The appeals range from little Cathy, who asked for 40 different toys, to Shanta Arun of Allison Park, Pa., who wrote, "All I want is for everybody to be happy on Christmas Day."

Many of the children were concerned with the health of Santa, Mrs. Claus and the elves, spelled "elfs" in most of the letters.

"I've been worrying about you lately. It's so cold in the North Pole. How are your reindeer? Keeping in shape, I hope, for that big day," wrote Martin Walker of Cambria Heights, N.Y.

The New York General Post Office receives thousands of such letters addressed to the North Pole and environs. They are not tossed out or left to idle, postal officials say. They are left for individuals and organizations to take in order to help provide a happier Christmas to a needy child or family.

Postmaster John R. Strachan said the practice started more than 40 years ago as a project of clerks in the money order division. It has since mushroomed into an official project, with public support and donations, he said. There are similar projects elsewhere in the nation.

Many Santa Claus letters are not from youngsters, but from indigent parents who say they haven't the money to buy presents for their children.

A Brooklyn, N.Y., mother of six, said her children "are patiently waiting for Santa, but unless I get lucky, there'll be an empty tree."

Sal and Nicholas Santoro live in the Bronx in a house without heat or hot water. "This Christmas, we won't be getting anything. Daddy is not working and mommy is sick," said Sal, 15, and Nicholas, 5, in their letter.

"We would appreciate whatever we get from you, even if it's just a toy each.... I'm sure mommy would appreciate a new boiler or heater to keep us warm."

And John Murray, of Assonet, Mass., was kind enough to compute the cost of the nine items he wanted Santa to bring. It was $38.08.

The letters are available to the public until 3 p.m. Dec. 24, at the General Post Office.

Attorney General Confuses Recount

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A recount of Gov. John J. Gilligan's apparent loss to former Gov. James A. Rhodes began today amid confusion and threats of court action regarding the role of witnesses at polling places.

Gilligan lost to Republican Rhodes by 11,114 votes after an official canvass, less than one vote per polling place in the state.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown issued an opinion that witnesses "may suggest to the judges that a ballot may be challenged."

Democrat Gilligan has been unable to gain assurance from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that witnesses will have the right to challenge ballots.

Ted Brown reacted angrily to the attorney general's opinion, claiming he had "absolutely nothing to do with the recount."

"It looks to me like this was a put up job; a sneak play to impede the progress of this recount. He has caused a great deal of confusion at the county boards of election level," the secretary of state said.

Brown said he had already heard from about a third of the 88 county election boards and was telling local officials to "follow our instructions and our directives."

Ted Brown has affirmed that witnesses may be present when ballots are counted, but insists that they should "not interfere with or impede the progress of the recount."

"This language neither acknowledges nor denies the right of a witness to suggest to the judges that a ballot ought to be challenged," the attorney general said in an opinion for Butler County Prosecutor John F. Holcomb.

"But the more reasonable interpretation is that the witnesses have such a right," the attorney general said. "I can see no reason why witnesses should be required to sit in absolute silence during a recount; on the contrary, part of their usefulness is in pointing out invalidities which the judges may have overlooked," he said.

David Young, an attorney representing Gilligan, said there were reports today that the attorney general's ruling was not being followed in some counties.

"This creates a court situation," Young said. "We are already learning in some instances that the attorney general's advice is being ignored and injunctions are being prepared. If it can't be solved then the whole recount is in jeopardy."

Thugs Sought In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico City's police department vowed today to avenge the death of five of its men gunned down by 15 stocking-masked terrorists who raided two local banks and made off with $200,000.

Two other policemen wounded by the gunmen in the robberies Tuesday were reported in serious condition.

A police spokesman said no arrests had been made, and the department had no clues to the identity of the bandits.

Mayor Octavio Senties and Police Chief Daniel Gutierrez Santos stood silent guard for an hour in the early morning beside the five black coffins of the slain men.

More than 30 policemen have been killed in Mexico City this year in clashes with terrorists, but this was the largest casualty toll in one clash. "We will not stop our investigation until the assassins are captured," said a police department spokesman. "We will avenge the deaths of the policemen through justice by arresting their killers."

Three women were reported among the 15 masked persons who pulled up to the Banco de Comercio and the Banco Nacional de Mexico on opposite corners in an industrial district and opened fire with M1 rifles on police stationed outside.

Two officers were killed instantly and three others died soon after in a hospital.

The gunmen grabbed $200,000, scattered notes in the banks signed "Commando Alfonso Rojas Dias, 23rd of September Communist League" and escaped in two black automobiles.

The 23rd of September group is the best known of Mexico's urban terror groups and it has claimed responsibility for many robberies, murders and kidnappings. The group is named after the date of a 1971 clash with the army in northern Mexico.

A-C Board Hears Report On Curriculum

A guidance report concerning the curriculum was presented the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education Monday night at its regular meeting by James Flanagan. Principal Richard V. Smith was also present at the meeting with a report on the high school activities and the athletic department.

Certificates of the past election were presented to the board and reviewed. The resignation of James Everett from his teaching position was accepted.

Inspection was made by the board members and the administrators of the condition of the windows in the Stoutsville building. Superintendent W. A. Smith and board member Elwood Kim were appointed to look into the roof repairs at the Amanda building.

Permission was granted to the United Methodist Church to use the Stoutsville gymnasium for practice on dates as approved by principal Wayne Evans. Permission was also granted to band director Paul Molyneux to take the junior high band to the Elk's Home in Lancaster on Dec. 19. The bands will hold a spring concert on a Sunday afternoon after scheduling with the high school principal.

A letter was read from Miss Joyce Cook EMR supervisor, thanking principal Stephen Gahn, Mrs. Rita Wooten, Mrs. Diane Bresler and Mrs. Eleanor Taylor for allowing Miss Ann Hoy of Ohio University and several of her student teachers to visit on Nov. 12.

The meeting was recessed until Dec. 16 at 7 p.m. at the Stoutsville building. The organizational meeting was set for Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. in the Amanda building.

Board members present were Dan D. Davis, Robert Foster, Maynard Miller, Elwood Kim and president Enos Fausnaugh.

Turkish Aid Cutoff Likely To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to continue the cutoff of U.S. military aid to Turkey in a $2.6 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

The Ford administration is offering little immediate resistance to the cutoff, which would be continued because of Turkey's occupation of a large part of Cyprus.

The administration also has agreed to a compromise in U.S. aid to South Korea, and foreign aid supporters predicted these two positions would help win House approval of the bill today.

But with more than a dozen amendments pending that could drive away scattered votes, no one was certain about House approval.

Rather than fight for House approval of a Senate move to delay the Turkish aid cutoff until Feb. 14, the administration reportedly decided to wait until next week and try to win the delay when House-Senate conferees work out a compromise foreign aid bill.

Congress acted in October to cut off the military aid to Turkey as of midnight Tuesday unless substantial progress was made on negotiating withdrawal of Turkish occupation forces on Cyprus.

The State Department announced Tuesday that no such progress could be reported and that it would halt all military hardware and aid deliveries to Turkey.

In an effort to avoid vote-splitting, congressmen say the administration has agreed not to fight any House action on the bill except moves to cut Indochina reconstruction aid even more than the $366 million chopped off in committee.

Goodyear Chief Raps Congress

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Chairman Charles J. Pilliod Jr. says Congress should devote less attention to spending money and work on "stimulating industry, combating inflation and encouraging national production of energy products."

Pilliod said Tuesday the 1975 tire market and much of the rest of the economy hinges on congressional action.

However, the Goodyear chairman forecast a good year for the rubber industry in 1975.

He predicted that demand for rubber products in energy and food production will offset sluggish tire sales stemming from the slowdown in the auto industry.

Logan Elm Board Reviews Building Maintenance Needs

The Logan Elm School District board of education during a special meeting Tuesday discussed the maintenance needs of the various buildings with principals.

Principals present outlining the repair requirements of their respective buildings were: Charles Dean, Laurelville School; Charles Pritchard, Saltcreek School; Dale Drake, Washington School; Al Gabriel, Pickaway School; Roger Wolfe, McDowell School; Dow West, Logan Elm High School.

There were a number of common problems brought out in the reports of the principals, such as: heating system defects, roof leaks and worn hardware.

As a result of the principals' reports, a priority list will be established, including cost estimates which will be presented at another special meeting Dec. 30. At this meeting, the board will make expenditure plans for the calendar year 1975.

In other business Tuesday, permission was granted for two marching and baton groups to perform at half-time of two varsity basketball games.

LE local superintendent John Henn announced that all of the home economics department electrical appliances with the exception of one upright range and one refrigerator had been sold. The appliances are sold on an annual basis and new ones purchased with proceeds from the sales. Under the program which was initiated when South Central Power donated the original equipment to the school for the cost of one dollar, the school has been able to keep new electrical appliances for home economic students at no cost to the district's taxpayers.

Bids were also reviewed for replacing spouting at Pickaway School and for drywall and concrete work for the vocational agriculture building which is under construction.

Supplemental contracts were offered to Miss Pamela Grow for Girls Athletic Assn. adviser; Christopher (Nick) Damopoulos, senior class play director; Caroline Gambill and Jeff Smallwood, junior class play co-directors; Steve Barney, Varsity Club adviser; William Chandler, Junior-Senior Prom decorations.

Board members present were Roger Hobbie, Frank Seimer, Virginia Wood, Don Bower and Robert Bowers.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Excuse For Arrogance

DEAR ABBY: After 26 years of marriage, my wife died suddenly, and I married again one year later. This displeased my mother, because she was very fond of my first wife, although she saw little of her because we lived in California and Mother lived in Connecticut.

I phoned Mother last night to wish her a happy birthday, and before completing the conversation, I added my new wife's best regards. (They had never met.) That's when all you-know-what broke loose.

Between Mother's tears and the tirade that followed, she let me know that she was furious that she had not as yet received any communication from my bride, introducing herself to her new family, etc. My wife, on the other hand, being British and therefore very proper, insists that it was Mother's place to have written to HER, welcoming her into the family, etc.

I find myself torn between two women, each of whom I love dearly. Neither one will give an inch. What do the etiquette books say is the correct procedure?

And is there a way out of my dilemma?

TORN IN WOODSIDE

DEAR ABBY: "Etiquette" is far less important than good family relations. Obviously one lady must yield, and I suggest that out of respect to your mother's age, your wife should write to your mother (or phone her) and make the first move.

Being British (and "therefore proper") is no excuse for being stubborn and therefore arrogant.

DEAR ABBY: Because my mother thought my boyfriend and I were getting a little too serious, she violated my privacy, and read my personal mail from David.

In one letter he said he loved me and hoped we could move in together soon. When I came into my room and found my mother standing there with that letter in her hand, I asked, "Why did you sneak into my personal things?"

She replied, "Because I love you, and don't want to see you hurt." Then she asked, "Why didn't you tell me?" To which I had no other choice but to answer, "Because I love you, and don't want to see you hurt."

How's that for irony?

DAVID'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: You don't say how old you are, but if you are a minor, your mother is responsible for your well-being. This doesn't give her the right to violate your privacy, however.

DEAR ABBY: You are not wrong to have used your common sense and logic concerning the questions of whether the man could marry his former daughter-in-law. (You said that since they were not related by blood there was nothing incestuous about it. The "law" differed with you.)

It is disheartening that logic has fallen (or been pushed) into so much disrepute. The legal minds that were so quick to correct you could have better served justice by initiating action to remove such unreasonable laws from their state statutes.

M.P.: PALMER, ALASKA

DEAR M.P.: Thanks. I needed that! Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Derby News

The community notes with sadness the passing of a former resident and the last of one of our oldest families, Mrs. Marietta McKinley Hurst who passed away on Saturday in Washington Court House. She leaves here many friends, and fond memories for her former students. She was the 3-4 grade elementary teacher here for many years. She was preceded in death by her sister Mrs. Lona Mae McKinley Leach, who passed away four years ago.

Mrs. Bertha McCann tells me that $50 was realized from the Nov. 7 Stanley party which was turned in to the youth fund at the Derby United Methodist Church. She and our Derby youth give thanks to everyone who made it possible.

Mrs. Minnie Ridgway has been ill at her home, and is now feeling some better.

Mrs. Bertha McCann is feeling poorly these days and we hope she will soon be feeling much better.

Lynn May Become Budget Director

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is expected to make the first Cabinet-level change of his administration by nominating Housing Secretary James T. Lynn to succeed Roy L. Ash as director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Sources in OMB and the Department of Housing and Urban Development reported Monday that they expect the change to be announced in about 10 days, if not sooner.

Jobless Pay Expansion Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has urged congressional approval of an emergency measure to extend jobless benefits an additional 13 weeks and provide up to 26 weeks of payments for workers not now eligible for coverage.

Ford's action Monday follows the government report last week that the unemployment rate had jumped to 6.5 per cent of the work force in November when nearly six million persons were out of work.

The same economic malaise led Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., to declare Monday that the government should worry more about recession than inflation.

The industrialist also said "there is no reason to believe that we will have an economic upturn in 1975."

Most states now pay up to a maximum of 26 weeks of unemployment benefits. The proposal now pending in Congress would increase the benefit period to 39 weeks, with the federal government paying half the cost.

In a related development, the Labor Department said it is studying a proposal to bring nearly seven million more workers under the unemployment insurance system.

Department officials said Monday that they had been preparing the proposal for several months but said the recent sharp rise in unemployment made the need for change more urgent.

An estimated 12 million employed workers are not covered by the system.

Among those who would be brought under coverage are some 5.3 million state and municipal government employees, 600,000 farm workers and 340,000 of the 1.3 million domestic workers.

Say Hunter In Hiding

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Boone County police have indicated they believe a hunter missing for a week in a 10,000-acre wooded area does not want to be found.

Lt. Donald Stamper called off the search again Tuesday saying that he was certain that Edward Nichols, 21, Florence, saw searchers and could have contacted them if he wanted to.

The search was canceled last Thursday but resumed Monday when two hunters reported seeing a man they later identified through photographs as Nichols. He fled from them, they said, but lost a pair of socks.

David Stites, 20, Florence, who first reported Nichols missing, said the socks were the type worn by Nichols when he disappeared near the Boone-Gallatin county line.

A worldwide cholera epidemic, 1883-1894, killed millions.

Ethics Law Modifications Seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Modifications in Ohio's new ethics law appear almost certain in the legislative session that gets under way Jan. 6.

The five-member State Ethics Commission, one of four such groups established by the 11-month-old law, is in the process of trying to come up with specific proposals.

Administrative problems have plagued the fledgling panel to the point that its executive secretary, Jerome R. Bahlmann, admitted the commission even now doesn't know over which public officials it has jurisdiction.

The other new commissions, one for each house of the legislature and one for the courts, also have had problems although not as many. The state commission covers all elected and appointed state officials, as well as all elected county and municipal officials along with those appointed to policy positions.

Under the law, the affected officials, along with all candidates for public office, are required to file each year a statement disclosing their sources of income.

More than 600 local officials, all but a handful of them municipal officials, missed their first deadline. Many said when contacted by Bahlmann they were not aware of the requirement.

A total of 1,609 did file their reports. Others whom the commission thought were supposed to file were not actually required to, and the list obtained from the secretary of state's office contained "a number of deceased persons," Bahlmann said.

Further confusion resulted from the dates some officials, especially those in charter cities, assumed their positions. In some charter cities, for instance, elected officials take office as soon as election results are certified. Others wait until a specific time such as the first of the year. The bill didn't apply to those in office at the time it was passed but will when they run again.

Additionally, the commission has encountered problems with forms used to prepare the statements. Some local officials said they were not able to get them from county election boards.

"About all we are going to be able to do this year is come up with a list of the people who are supposed to file," Bahlmann told the commission.

The commission, of which Mrs. Barbara Rawson of Cleveland is chairman, scheduled a series of public hearings around the state in December to hear recommendations to try to solve some of the problems.

Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D-6 Cleveland, the chief sponsor of the ethics law, plans to attend at least the sessions planned for Columbus and Cleveland, to see if legislative proposals are forthcoming, Bahlmann said.

The two basic issues, he said, are whether the commission should require disclosure statements from more or fewer people, and whether the information contained in the statements is sufficient.

There was some sentiment in the legislature last year to require public officials to disclose not only the sources of income, but also the amounts. This was a minority view, however, and probably would have killed the bill off had it been retained, Sweeney said.

The commission agreed at its last meeting to defer until January a decision on whether to subpoena the more than 600 officials who failed to meet the deadline, giving them additional time to comply.

Bahlmann said in no instance was there an obvious attempt by anyone to deliberately break the law, and that none of those with whom he talked said they would refuse to file.

Commodity Plunger

One of the mystifying forces in the world grain picture is the Soviet Union. Russia claims to be a grain exporting nation, and in fact does export large quantities to its various satellites—especially Cuba. Coincidentally, however, Moscow has been one of the largest buyers of grain on the world market. In 1972 and again this year the Soviet purchases were directed in particular at the U.S. market. There is no need to remind

American consumers of the sharp price reaction which followed the huge 1972 purchases of U.S. grain by the Soviets. Without fanfare, the Soviets once again dipped into the American stockpile of wheat and corn this year, with orders totaling $500 million. That commodity exchange was halted by the President, but within months was permitted to proceed—at the reduced level of $380 million. Only recently has it been revealed that the Soviet Union has been doing something similar in the sugar market this year. The excuse offered was that the Soviet's own beet sugar crop was a disaster. But even a layman looking at the effects on food commodities every time the Soviets take a plunge has to wonder whether Moscow has added commodity speculation to its arsenal of weapons designed to influence world affairs in its favor.

Gold Story--Don't Rush

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Come 1975, you'll be able to buy gold, the first time that has happened in 40 years. The Treasury will offer 2,000,000 ounces of its huge Fort Knox hoard. That will give the economy a $360,000,000 shot in the arm. Not much, really, but better than nothing. Chances are that the Gold Rush won't be as much fun as Chaplin's classic film of the same name. First of all, there will be no U.S. gold coins to jingle in your pocket or turn into watches and cigaret lighters. FDR's Gold Act of 1934 specifically forbids the use of gold in coins, and the law still stands despite the Treasury's coughing up the golden dribs, drabs and bars.

Second, gold can be flightier than the stock market. If you surprise your wife with, say, a $50,000 bar of it, have it gift-wrapped at your bank, and take it home with you, you'll blow about $15,000 the moment you step out of the bank. Your bar becomes suspect the moment it leaves the bank's vault. It's like buying an $8,000 car, driving it once around the block, and then trying to turn it back in for $8,000. The dealer offers you $6,000.

Third, if you decide at any future date to sell your $50,000 bar, on which no interest is earned, of course, you must have it assayed to assure the new buyer that you didn't mix it with oleomargarine while you retain it. In the case of gold "wafers," as the U.S. Mint refers to the half-ounce, one-ounce and five-ounce clunks that will be on sale, an assay will cost you as much as the clunk.

Then of course, there's the problem of hiding the gold and protecting it from robbers, if you take it under your wing.

We had a kid once who saved up $5 in small change and asked me to exchange it for a $5 bill. Ten minutes later he was back with another request: would I give him back the coins for the $5 bill?

"Sure," I said, "but what changed your mind?"

"The $5 bill was not fun counting," he said.

A lot of other Americans will feel the same way shortly after the dawn of the new golden age.

Still, the Treasury should not have too much trouble selling out its offer. There is something about gold that has made men drool like idiots for countless centuries, in spite of such warnings as Chaucer's "Hyt is not al gold that glareth." It has attracted the idolatry of pharaohs, emperors, kings, queens, knaves and other poets.

Who ever sold his soul for another metal, iron; or prayed to a tin saint, or stole bronze in the dead of the night?

Cicero called Aristotle "a river of flowing gold." Sir Thomas More (1478-1535) observed, "They wonder much to hear that gold, which in itself is so useless a thing, should by everywhere so much esteemed, that even men for whom it was made, and by whom it has its value, should yet be thought of less value than it is."

Despite its astronomical price there is plenty of gold around. It comes in all sizes, in the raw — from the little pebbles and flakes of the Yukon to the "Holtermann Nugget" of Australia, which weighed more than 200 pounds. There are billions of tons of it in the oceans of the world, but "mining" it from the water is a bit too much: its concentration is .000006 parts to 1,000,000 parts of water. It would take you a century to recover enough of it to fill your cavity.

My man at the Mint in Washington has some frowning words about the new gold rush, particularly for the under-40 crowd that will buy out of sheer curiosity:

"If you buy modest and take it home to look at and feel, the world prices will have to go up 20 per cent before you can get back what you paid for it . . .

"You're better off, if you're a small buyer, to pick up some foreign gold coins. They're prettier than a tiny bar . . .

"Leave your gold at the bank. It won't make you any money, lying there, but it's a nice feeling — like having your own bottle on the shelf . . .

"One last thought," the Mint Man said, "don't buy the stuff. Play around with futures."

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Some prominent members of the National Association of Manufacturers met this month with journalists in a no-holds-barred discussion of business-media relationships and other concerns.

Here are some highlights, randomly selected, of the meeting.

Donald Gaudion, chairman and chief executive of Sybron Corp., Rochester, N.Y. who had just completed a year as NAM chairman:

Society is interrelated, he begins, drawing with chalk on a green display board. He draws five boxes arranged in a circle and names them: technology-economic, media, government, religion, education.

All related to and depend upon the other, he said. "One falls and another is damaged."

One of the groups is growing faster and more independently than the others, Gaudion states. He points to the technology-economic box, which includes the business community, and suggests businessmen must understand they have helped throw the relationship out of synchronization.

J. Stanford Smith, chairman and chief executive of International Paper, opens bluntly: "We have honest differences with the press," he says, "But we respect its intelligence and integrity." He has before him a large notebook, carefully documenting his differences with the media.

Smith is concerned with profits. "Industrial expansion must come from retained earnings, and retained earnings are shrinking as a per cent of Gross National Product," he says, arguing that reporters should put earnings in perspective.

This nation faces a capital shortage and it doesn't help matters if the public thinks corporations are unconscionably profitable. "We need an understanding of profits," he says.

Profits are needed to attract capital. Harold A. Shaub, Campbell Soup Co. president, is given his three minutes to state his views, and he too exceeds the limit. "The food business probably has as many critics as any other industry," he states.

Shaub says he is concerned about misunderstandings. "The United States has the finest food producing system in the world," he states, but he warns "we don't have the capacity to feed the world."

Shaub says he opposed wage-price controls but that he thinks they're coming. During the nation's most recent testing of controls, he says, prices went up 1 per cent a month. "The damn thing is counter-productive."

Campbell does business in many foreign countries with wage-price controls. "They've not worked in this country, not worked in other countries. We've got an education job to do because the people in this country want them."

William F. Martin, chairman of Phillips Petroleum Co., believes the country urgently needs a federal oil policy. The oil industry is quite frustrated, he says. "We don't know what is expected of us."

Martin also is concerned about the reporting of profits. "Why does the press not put in the return on assets?" he asks. To do so would be more meaningful, he suggests. It would demonstrate that profits aren't exorbitant.

Court Nixes Disclosure Case Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time this year, the Supreme Court has refused to review a state requirement that public officials must disclose their personal finances.

By a 7 to 2 vote Monday, the court let stand a decision of the Illinois Supreme Court upholding a disclosure order by Gov. Daniel Walker.

The court declined last spring to consider a challenge to a sweeping public disclosure law passed as an initiative by the voters of Washington State.

The court did agree to add these three cases to its docket:

—An appeal from a ruling of a New York federal court that states may not reduce a family's welfare grant merely because there is a "lodger" in the home. The lower court said such a rule unconstitutionally assumes, without proof, that the lodger is helping with the rent or that the family has more room than it needs.

—An argument by federal prosecutors that they should be allowed to cross-examine criminal defendants about the fact that they asserted their constitutional right to remain silent under police questioning. Two lower courts have reached opposite conclusions on the point.

—A dispute between the federal government and the state of Alaska over oil leases on 2,500 acres of submerged land in Cook Inlet. The U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco has approved state plans to issue the leases.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Dec. 11, the 345th day of 1974. There are 20 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1941, Germany and Italy declared war on the United States.

On this date —
In 1816, Indiana became the 19th state of the Union.

In 1848, Louis Napoleon was elected president of France.

In 1936, Edward VIII abdicated as King of England, and King George VI ascended the throne.

In 1937, Benito Mussolini announced that Italy was withdrawing from the League of Nations.

In 1944, in World War II, German troops, under attack by the American 1st Army, retreated across the Roer River.

In 1946, John D. Rockefeller Jr. offered to donate a six-block piece of Manhattan real estate for a headquarters for the United Nations.

Ten years ago: A top lieutenant of Fidel Castro, Ernesto Che Guevara, told the U.N. General Assembly the U.S., helped by Latin neighbors, was preparing aggression against Cuba.

Five years ago: Mounting enemy action was reflected in the Vietnam War by heavier casualties on both sides, with 100 Americans killed in one week.

One year ago: Nelson Rockefeller announced he was resigning as Governor of New York after 15 years in office.

Today's birthdays: Former Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton is 65 years old. Pro football official George Sauer is 64.

Thought for today: Do you know what a pessimist is? A man who thinks everybody is nasty as himself, and hates them for it — George Bernard Shaw, British playwright, 1856-1950.

"Do we take prisoners?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our doctor has prescribed cortisone for my bursitis. My friends have made me afraid of cortisone and I haven't been taking it. I'm embarrassed to tell my doctor this. Is cortisone safe to take?

Mrs. W. N., Penn.

Dear Mrs. N.:
Loving, well-meaning friends are very special possessions. They are, however, not the people you should depend on for medical advice. You are paying an unnecessary painful penalty for bad advice.

Cortisone is a remarkable hormone which reduces inflammation in bursitis and in other conditions. When doctors choose cortisone as a form of treatment they are completely aware of all possible dangers associated with long, uninterrupted use. It is for this reason that they prescribe it for a limited time, and usually with decreasing doses, and always under their constant supervision.

Confusion and anxiety about cortisone are responsible for the fact that many patients, like yourself, do not follow through on their doctor's advice about its use.

Had you expressed your anxiety to your doctor, he would have alleviated it and spared you the long delay in getting relief from your bursitis.

Your doctor will understand the predicament you are in and will most certainly "forgive you." He will undoubtedly start the therapeutic cycle once more.

Both my father and mother had glaucoma at the age of 70. I am 45 and have no trouble with my eyes, but I constantly worry that I might inherit this condition.

Mr. B. V., Ga.

Dear Mr. V.:
Worry is not the antidote for the prevention of glaucoma. In fact, worry is a disease in itself.

There is little or no hereditary tendency to the development of glaucoma.

Glaucoma is a readily recognized, easily detected increase of fluid pressure in the eyeball.

There are now many highly sensitive measuring devices by which the pressure within the eyeball can be read and recorded, with one visit to the eye doctor.

These tests for glaucoma must be included in every thorough eye examination of adults.

It is unnecessary for you to live with the feeling that you inevitably will be a candidate for this condition.

Israel--Part One

By JIM BISHOP

The soil of Israel can grow anything from a pomegranate to a pumpkin because it has been drinking the blood of the young for 2,000 years. The holiest of cities, Jerusalem, has been sacked and pillaged by men of many nations — always in the name of God.

It is an ancient rocky land, and it is also a sobbing infant nation. On the map it looks like a rusty dirk aimed at the Gulf of Aqaba. Squared, it would be 90 miles by 90 miles, and could be dropped in the area between New York, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Philadelphia, and Atlantic City.

All of Israel is one-quarter of 1 per cent of the Arab lands which surround it. In the period 1945-1949, I worked to organize Zionist groups among Christians to help the Jewish Agency, the Joint Distribution Committee and others to carve a few sand dunes as a home for the homeless.

William Randolph Hearst, George K. Sidney and I were the original promoters of a show called "Night of Stars," a means of raising money for a nation which was only an obsessive dream. The dream came true and the Law of Return was firmly established.

Now, 26 years later, I look back on three visits to Israel with joy and despair. The three million citizens who crept, crawled and swam to the Promised Land from the strictures of European ghettos find that Israel is not a place of milk and honey.

It is, as any student of history might surmise, an emerging nation of contradictions. It is an emerald of greenery on the edge of a desert. It is a predominantly European nation with the culture of sidewalk cafes and symphony orchestras set among nomadic tribes who live in tents.

The government is socialistic but the people are jingoistic. The Israelis, the most persecuted people in the history of the world, foster a caste system in which, let it be said, the immigrant Berlin Jew believes he has little in common with the Warsaw Jew.

The new Knesset building looks more like a Shinto temple than a Hebrew parliament. The legislative parties are fractionalized so that no government can remain in office without support from dissident parties.

The age-old conundrum — "Is a Jew a member of a religious group or is he part of a well-defined ethnic group, or both?" — is answered by Israelis: "We are an ethnic group. Seventy per cent of us do not go to the temple."

Hebrew as a language could, until 1948, be equated with Latin as a dead language, or as a tongue of scholars. Today, I hear Hebrew in Tel Aviv, the Negev Desert, Haifa. The stern Sabras frown upon Yiddish as a bastard tongue.

Israel is a forlorn fort without walls. Three million persons are surrounded on three sides by Arabs who are convinced that they have been robbed of their land by the Jews, and on the fourth by the Mediterranean.

Each time that the Arabs feel strong and unified, they fight a "holy" war to drive the immigrants into the sea. Each time they lose. Each time anti-imperialistic Israel grabs a little more land from the Arabs.

Who is right? Who is wrong? Or is it possible that both sides are right and wrong? Six million American Jews worship at a diversity of temples, but are almost united in criticizing those who criticize Israel.

He who hands me a loaded gun has silently asked me to use it. The U.S. does this to Israel; the Soviet Union is a condescending big brother to the Arabs. There is no strategic reason for the presence of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean except to send carrier aircraft to the rescue if, at any time, Israel appears to be losing to the Arabs.

L'Affaire Brown, when the chairman of the American Joint Chiefs of Staff enunciated anti-Semitic opinions in North Carolina, was, in truth, a ticking bomb. Most American Jews, with the exception of Senator Jacob Javits and a few others, remained silent.

To shout in rebuttal would fan the flames of anti-Semitism. Superior American education has driven bigotry into the woodwork of public opinion. General George Brown was clearly unbalanced when he said that Jews dominate banking and the press.

He wasn't wrong when he complained of the strength of the Israeli lobby in Washington. One need only ask Morris Amitay, assistant to Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut. Amitay is blunt about reprisals: "... if we get a Senator from an industrial state, a state with any sizable Jewish population, and he doesn't come out, we don't let him get away with it. That's when we call for outside help."

Hyman Bookbinder of the American Jewish Committee is equally candid: "Considering the numbers that we are in a country of 200 million," he told a Jewish committee, "I think we pull our weight nicely."

Right? Wrong? It depends upon whether you look upon Israel's proponents with hope or despair . . .

Circleville Garden Club Holds Christmas Dinner

Mrs. Charles Huston displayed some of her original Christmas decorations at the Thursday evening Christmas dinner of Circleville Garden Club at Pickaway Arms.

Miss Dhel Renick presided at the punch bowl. Swedish Christmas decorations set the motif for the tables. Miss Elizabeth Tolbert explained the significance of the decorations and told the legend of St. Lucia.

At each place was a bird made with brazil nuts, feathers, paper, and bead eyes, furnished by Mrs. Peggy Smith.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse reported the details of the Regional Meeting at Oak Hill on Nov. 8th and of the Council Meeting held Nov. 13th in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society.

As Mrs. Huston showed and talked about constructing her holiday decorations great interest was in a door wreath featuring a Raggedy Ann and Andy made with yarn and mounted on the wreath. Surrounding them were various colors of yarn balls in assorted sizes.

Red carnations were used most effectively with a red kerosene lantern. Mrs. Huston stressed that gardeners should always work in live flowers with their arrangements whenever possible. To further illustrate her point she used white carnations with a white madonna.

Work boots were filled with an assortment of Christmas boxes. Teasel was employed by Mrs. Huston to construct a Christmas tree. Even the old coal shovel was used in a door swag. Not to be forgotten were a table leg and a top from a child's stool, which were incorporated into bases of arrangements.

Mrs. Huston used boxwood, holly and evergreen branches extensively. Artificial fruit, balls, assorted candles and votives were used in still other decorations.

Mrs. Charles Neff and Miss Wilmine Haecker served as the committee for the dinner and program.

The next regular meeting will be Feb. 7th in the home of Miss Elizabeth Tolbert, 523 Mowrer Road.

Herald Employees Entertained With Christmas Party

Floral arrangements of red carnations and white mums interspersed with clusters of pine needles and centered with red tapers, and red globed antique gold lamps, decorated the tables at Steele's Restaurant Saturday evening for the Christmas party and dinner entertaining employees of The Herald.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were served during the social hour preceding the dinner featuring roast prime rib of beef au jus.

Numbers were drawn giving the centerpieces as door prizes to Mrs. David Amey, Mrs. Bill McGaffney, Walter Halstenberg, Bill Halstenberg and Mrs. Tom Purcell.

Attending the gala affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rodenfels, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGaffney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palm, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tootle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shasteen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jones, Mr. and Mrs. David Amey, Mrs. Marion Sines, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Halstenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Halstenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dumm, Miss Eloise Hanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Baylous, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cherrington.

Holiday Party Held By Mrs. Marion's Class

Mrs. Marion's Class of Community United Methodist Church met recently in the social rooms of the church for its annual Christmas party.

Berger Guild 29 Schedules Dinner

Mrs. Eldon DeLong, Route 1, will host a carry-in dinner of Berger Hospital Guild 29 in her home 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Doors To Be Decorated By Derby Garden Club

Mrs. Thelma Grossman of Orient, created several interesting dried arrangements for fall entertaining at the recent meeting of Derby Garden Club. Twenty members and three guests attended the meeting held at the Derby Methodist Church. Shirley McPherson gave the devotions.

Martha Buller, president, presided at the business meeting which included a discussion of the Decorate A Door for a Golden Ager project. Seven golden

Church Board Is Entertained

On Dec. 5th, following the regular meeting of the official board of Circleville Church of the Nazarene, the pastor's family entertained members and guests at the Fellowship Center.

Teresa Allen offered prayer and refreshments were served to: the Rev. and Mrs. William Hill and Bill, Sam and Barbara Stimpert and Mark, Roy and Lucille Nelson, Roger and Miriam Hobbie, Ralph and Barbara Hart.

Garden Club Holds Annual Christmas Party

Solaqua Garden Club held its annual Christmas party noon Friday at the Robtown Parish House.

A carry-in dinner preceded the brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Glen Rinehart.

Mrs. James Holt, program chairman, asked each one who brought and displayed Christmas arrangements, to tell of the construction and materials.

Mrs. Clyde Herron gave several Christmas readings and members sang carols. Prizes were given for the best decorated gifts and members exchanged gifts.

The next regular meeting will be 1:30 p.m., Jan. 3rd, at the Ashville Coffee Shop.

PICKAWAY HISTORICAL SOCIETY OFFERS WILLIAMS BROS. HISTORY

The Pickaway County Historical Society has sponsored the reproduction of the History of Franklin and Pickaway Counties, Ohio with Illustrations and Biographical Sketches of Some of the Prominent Men and Pioneers, by Williams Bros. 1880. This book covers the basic history of these two counties during the years from 1796 through 1880. The 693 page volume, an exact reproduction of the original, contains a 25,000 every name index which makes it an invaluable reference book.

For those who desire to give a Christmas gift of lasting historical value, the Pickaway County Historical Society has available copies of this historic volume which may be purchased at the Museum on Wednesday and Sunday afternoons from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. Or an order can be placed with the Historical Society by completing the coupon below and mailing it with your check for $18.50, made payable to the Pickaway County Historical Society.

SUNDAY 1 P.M. TO 5:25 P.M.

The United Methodist Women met in the church social room on Dec. 4, for their annual Christmas carry-in lunch and gift exchange.

The lunch was served at noon on tables decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

Mrs. Helen Welch opened the devotions with prayer and the group sang "O Come, All Ye Faithful". The Christmas story from Luke was read responsively and Mrs. Beulah Robbins presented devotions reading "God Is Always With Us," "One Solitary Life", and commenting on the poem "How the Great Guest Came".

The president, Mrs. Lucia Spangler, conducted the business meeting and reports were given by Mrs. Ella Mae Jenkins and Mrs. Betty McJunkin.

A thank you note was received from Worthington Children's Home and a letter and photo was received from the group's Indonesian orphan, Tjokorde Istri Tirtas.

Following the gift exchange and revealing of secret pals, members drew names for secret pals for the coming year.

As the next meeting date comes on New Year's Day, the January meeting will be postponed to January 8, with Lucia Spangler and Ella Mae Jenkins as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCabe and family and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Pearce were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Amspaugh and family of Duncan Falls.

Mrs. Stewart Dennes has returned home after undergoing surgery at Columbus Doctor's Hospital West.

CENTRAL

SOUTHEAST

Rain tonight. Lows in the mid 30s. Rain Thursday morning, ending by evening. Highs in the 40s.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rainy and much milder weather is forecast for the Buckeye State tonight and Thursday.

A storm moving toward the state from the southern Great Plains pumped southerly winds into Ohio last night producing low readings this morning in the mid to upper 20s. That compares with readings in the low to mid teens early Tuesday.

Southerly breezes, coupled with sunny skies early this afternoon were forecast to produce high temperatures in the 40s across the state.

By daybreak today rain from the storm system had spread as far east as the Mississippi River.

Skies were expected to begin turning cloudy over southwestern Ohio late this morning, and the first rain should reach the state late this afternoon. By early Thursday rain should be general over the state, except in the extreme north, where the rain may begin as sleet or freezing rain.

Police, Troops Recover Thant's Body

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Troops and police hurling tear gas today recovered the body of U Thant, the former United Nations secretary general, from 3,000 students and Buddhist monks guarding it on the campus of Rangoon University.

After five days of inaction, President Ne Win sent security forces into the campus three miles outside Rangoon at 2 a.m. They broke through the main gate with a crane, drove back the students and monks with tear gas and broke into the small brick tomb in which the students on Sunday had interred the body of the international leader.

Thant, a political foe of Ne Win and a disciple of former Premier U Nu, died of cancer in New York on Nov. 25. His body was brought to Rangoon Dec. 1 for burial, but thousands of students and monks seized the coffin from the funeral procession on Dec. 5 and took it to the university campus.

The students charged that the government, in ordering Thant buried in one of Rangoon's less important civilian cemeteries, was not showing the proper respect to the country's most famous statesman. But foreign observers interpreted the action as an expression of general opposition to Ne Win's authoritarian regime, which has been in power since a military coup 12 years ago.

After the students took the body, the government announced a more prestigious burial place for Thant near the Shwedagon Pagoda, Burma's holiest shrine. But the students interred the coffin on Sunday in the tomb they had built on the campus.

Cable Television Seen For Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Franchises signed by two cable television companies and the City of Dayton could provide local homes with cable television within a year and a half.

Don Shuler, president of Cyprus Cable Television of Dayton, Inc., and Floyd Johnson, president of the Southwest Cable Corp., signed the franchises with City Manager James A. Alloway on Tuesday.

The two firms, which are franchised for separate sections of the city, now must request Federal Communications Commission certificates of compliance, Shuler said.

Owens-Corning Slates Layoffs

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. announced late Tuesday that it is furloughing 18 per cent of the work force at its Newark plant indefinitely.

Eric Gay, plant manager, blamed the layoffs on declining sales in the housing, appliance and automotive industries, for which the Newark plant supplies insulating material.

Gay said 475 men are involved in the layoff.

Fiberglass is Newark's largest employer.

SAVE A TREE—The sixth grade class of Saltcreek School recently held a paper drive. Purpose of the drive was to collect newspapers that will be recycled. One three-foot stack of newspapers will save one tree from being chopped down according to Miss Susan Forbes, the sixth grade teacher.

San Francisco, Las Vegas Fail Driver Courtesy Test

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Gambling isn't the only thing to watch out for in Las Vegas, according to Gordon Scott, who heads a driver safety group called Society of Professional Drivers.

If New York is bad, San Francisco and Las Vegas streets are a no-man's land, said Scott, who frequently ventures onto unfamiliar city streets to test driver courtesy.

"When I tried to pull out into traffic from a gas station in both places, no one ever paused to let me out. I had to wait until traffic died down," he said.

"It must be all those out-of-towners in Las Vegas and San Francisco, always in a hurry to get somewhere."

Waiting to pull out of a gas station and counting the number of cars that go by is Scott's universal standard of driver courtesy.

"Phoenix is the best I found," he said. "That is where we started teaching courtesy driving 17 years ago," said Scott, who is also a truck salesman. "There you have to wait only four cars. Cincinnati at 11 is just behind Salt Lake City."

"I expected much worse from an Eastern city. New York and Chicago are both at 35. That's at the end of the scale."

Los Angeles drivers presented a pleasant surprise for Scott. They had a rating of only 15.

Another of Scott's tests is to deliberately back out of angled parking space and wait for the blast from an irate motorist's horn.

Not a horn was sounded in anger at Cincinnati and Scott was delighted.

"I'd say you've got a lot of nice drivers here," he concluded. "We spent rush hour getting ourselves into bad situations and waiting for courteous drivers to help get us out."

Scott said his organization has helped reduce traffic accidents 75 per cent in trucking firms "just by passing the word on courtesy driving."

"When people do you a favor, you think 'hey, that's a pretty good idea,' then you start trying it yourself," he said.

Auto Engine Shows Promise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials have ordered additional experiments with a new type of automobile engine after initial laboratory tests appeared to confirm claims of high gasoline mileage, an informed source says.

The Environmental Protection Agency became interested in the new engine after private tests showed it delivered 30 miles per gallon or more, compared with about 19 miles per gallon from a standard engine under similar conditions.

The engine, developed by brothers Robert and Edward LaForce at Richmond, Va., began to undergo testing at the EPA laboratory in Ann Arbor Mich., last Friday.

Wyoming state was named after Wyoming Valley, Pa., and in the Indian language Wyoming means "alternating mountains and valleys."

Demos Set Takeover Of Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats geared up Tuesday for their takeover of the 111th General Assembly on Jan. 6.

Just before both houses of the 110th General Assembly adjourned permanently, Democrats picked committee chairmen for the 111th.

House Democrats reportedly have made most of their selections but have yet to announce them. Senate Democrats will be led by Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron. House Democrats will have Rep. Vernal G. Riffe, D-89 New Boston, as their leader.

Senate Democrats picked William Chavanne, 37, Gov. John Gilligan's liaison man with the legislature, to be the Senate clerk in the next session. His salary is expected to be around $25,000 a year.

The Senate also accepted the resignation, effective Dec. 31, of Sen. Ronald Mottl, D-24, elected to Congress at the Nov. 5 election.

Committee chairmen named by Democrats were:

Rules—President Pro Tem Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron; Agriculture and Conservation—Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion; Commerce and Labor—Donald Woodland, D-16 Columbus; Finance—Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown; Judiciary—David L. Headley, D-28 Barberton; Financial Institutions, Insurance and Elections—Tony B. Hall, D-6 Dayton; Transportation and Local Government—Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo; Health and Retirement—Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland; Energy and Environment—Robert O'Shaughnessy, D-15 Columbus.

Darby Creek Study On File Here

A Big Darby Creek corridor study prepared by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources with an advisory group of local citizens is on file in Pickaway County Engineer Henry McCrady's office.

The study is to determine the advisability of designating Darby Creek a scenic river. It is of the portion of the stream from the Pickaway County line northward through Madison County.

The Pickaway County Planning Commission has endorsed the scenic river designation for the stream and has gone on record requesting the state of Ohio not to encourage any more reservoir construction that would affect local streams.

The city of Columbus wants to build a reservoir for a water supply on Darby. The reservoir is to be located in Madison County near West Jefferson.

The scenic river designation could halt the construction of the impoundment.

Forest Park Gets Woman Firefighter

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Joyce Grubbs says she expects her family's help in her new job.

"My kids are real proud of me," she said. "I know they'll do everything they can to help."

"If I am in the process of fixing a meal and a fire alarm comes in, they will just have to take over."

The 5-foot-3 mother of three has become the first female firefighter in Forest Park, a suburb of Cincinnati.

"Mrs. Grubbs will come in handy for use due to her stature for such jobs as crawling in scuttle holes in attics or getting in tight or small areas," said Bob Lippincott, fire chief of the Forest Park Volunteer Fire Department.

"My personal opinion is that a woman does not belong in the active fire service. But if Mrs. Grubbs gets through this probationary period, it will be because she has earned the right and gained respect enough to be a firefighter."

If she passes the required training course, she will become the eighth woman firefighter in the Cincinnati area.

Her family has been encouraging. Mrs. Grubbs reports that she recently took her 90-year-old grandfather on a drive past the firehouse.

"I told him I wanted to be a fireperson and he said 'go get 'em girl.'"

DECA Class Plans Holiday Food Project

The DECA Class at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School is sponsoring a project to help make the Christmas holiday a little brighter for the needy. The group has placed boxes in each of the rooms for student contributions to food baskets for the poor.

These baskets will be distributed to people who might otherwise have a less than merry Christmas. Persons wishing to help with the project are asked to contact the vocational center.

In coordination with this effort, the DECA Class will be at Don's Salvage in Williamsport this week to help run the store. Don has agreed to run a special deal to help the class with the Christmas basket project. During the week 20 items will be labeled as specials. For every one of these items sold, the class will receive ten cents.

At the end of the week, the DECA Class will turn all of its profits into canned goods which will be donated to the drive for food.

Architect Hired For Workshop

Gene Swartz and Associates of Chillicothe will design the Sheltered Workshop for Mentally Retarded Adults in Pickaway County according to an agreement okayed by Pickaway County Commissioners.

Fee for the architect's basic services is 8.25 per cent of the total construction cost. The $200,000 workshop will be constructed off Route 22, east of the Circleville city limits.

In conjunction, a preliminary phase pre-planning meeting will be held Dec. 18 with Jay Clevenger, director of the Brooks-Yates School, members of the county and State Mental Retardation Boards, and members of the Pickaway County Sheltered Workshop Board.

Bates Opposes Ford Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's state welfare director has sent a letter to President Ford opposing proposals he says will result in cuts in food and medical benefits to the poor.

Director Charles W. Bates said administration proposals would require low-income persons to pay more for food stamps and require the elderly and handicapped to pay for a greater percentage of their hospital and doctor bills.

"I do not believe in requiring those kinds of sacrifices from the elderly and from children when I see no similar moves to halt spending by the most affluent segments of our population," Bates said.

Wheat Crop Value Billion Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising prices helped boost the value of the 1974 wheat crop about $1 billion over last year's harvest, although production was far less than the government had expected.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that this year's crop value to farmers is a record of more than $7.7 billion, including an average 1974-75 season market price of $4.32 per bushel.

Last year, when the average farm price of wheat was a record then of $3.96 per bushel, the crop was worth more than $6.7 billion. Soaring prices since mid-1972 have been the main reason, along with larger production the past two years.

Revised figures show the 1974 wheat crop was slightly less than 1.8 billion bushels, up only 13 million bushels from the previous USDA estimate made two months ago. That put this year's harvest about 5 per cent above the previous record in 1973.

Ways, Means Committee Reorganizes

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Rep. Wilbur D. Mills bowing out as its chairman, the House Ways and Means Committee is pushing ahead to reorganize.

Mills made it official Tuesday that he will not serve as Ways and Means chairman, a post he has held for 16 years, when the new Congress convenes next month.

Quoted as saying "I'm bone tired ... I want out," Mills sent word from the Bethesda Naval Hospital to Speaker Carl Albert that he would not be a candidate for the chairmanship.

Mills entered the hospital for treatment last week after complaining of exhaustion.

Mills' decision came after he appeared on stage in Boston with his friend, stripper Annabel Battistella.

It was already clear that his colleagues would not have returned the Arkansas Democrat to the chairmanship. Facing further weeks of hospitalization, Mills left open the questions whether he would return to Congress or to the committee.

His almost certain successor is Rep. Al Ullman of Oregon, a middle of the road Democrat.

The Democratic caucus, in decreeing substantial changes for the House, enlarged the committee from 25 to 37 members and directed it to establish subcommittees. Mills had always avoided subcommittees.

The Democratic Steering Committee named Reps. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., and Richard F. VanderVeen, D-Mich., both considered liberals, to replace two retiring Democrats of the same persuasion.

Ten other Democratic slots created by the expansion are yet to be filled. All members are subject to caucus approval or replacement.

Metzenbaum Opposed To Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, said the combination of wealth and political power prompted him to cast one of the seven votes against confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller as vice president.

Metzenbaum said his major objections to the confirmation are loans to political figures and Rockefeller's handling of the Attica prison riot.

The Ohio Democrat said the country "should not have a vice president or president who might have a conflict of interest."

But Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, told the Senate that "the people of Ohio hold Nelson Rockefeller in high regard."

The former New York governor is unquestionably qualified for the vice presidency, Taft said.

"That is not to say that I have not received some mail from my constituents criticizing the President's choice," he said. "The thrust of their comments is directed toward Gov. Rockefeller's philosophy on various issues and principles to which he adhered over his years in public service."

"While I may not agree with all of Mr. Rockefeller's views, it would not be practical for me or other senators to support a nomination only if that candidate's views were in complete conformance with our own and those of our constituency."

Talks Seen Mostly Gesture

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is meeting today with the Greek and Turkish foreign ministers. But he has no ideas for solving their dispute over Cyprus and is doubtful that his meetings with them will accomplish much.

A senior American official aboard Kissinger's plane from Washington Tuesday said the talks with Milih Esenbel of Turkey and Dimitri Bitsios of Greece were primarily a gesture.

The official said among the principal obstacles to movement toward a settlement are the lack of a permanent government in Turkey, the move by the U.S. Congress to cut off all American military aid to Turkey and the return to Cyprus of Archbishop Makarios, the deposed president whose overthrow last July led to the Turkish invasion of the island.

U.S. sources say that Makarios' presence on Cyprus is an enormous complication because nobody knows his intentions. American officials are said to believe that once negotiations start between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots, a settlement could be reached in two months if Makarios cooperated and if the Greek and Turkish governments went along.

Since the communal talks can't start without the prior approval of Ankara and Athens, their cooperation is assumed. Makarios remains the question mark, and until his role is clear Kissinger won't commit himself to any specific plan.

Church Charges Filed In Dispute

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Rev. L. Peter Beebe says he is disappointed that church charges were filed against him for permitting two women priests to perform the Eucharist at Christ Episcopal Church in Oberlin.

But the Rev. Mr. Beebe said Tuesday he thinks the action "says more about the church than about me. 'It's unfortunate for the church,' he added, "and if it is carried to trial it will be even more unfortunate."

It appeared that the issue may be headed for trial.

Cleveland attorney Sterling Newell Jr. said the charges were filed with the Standing Committee of the Ohio Episcopal Diocese accusing the 29-year-old Oberlin priest of violating "his ordination vows and various canons of the church."

Gilligan Campaign Costs Top Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan has reported final campaign expenses that raise the total spent on his apparently unsuccessful bid for re-election to more than $1 million.

Ohioans for Gilligan reported expenses of $258,120 for the second half of October and the month of November, bringing his total on file at the Secretary of State's office to $1,065,736.

That would put him $535 over the campaign spending limit set by Ohio law, but Asst. Secretary of State James Marsh said deductions for telephone deposits would probably erase the overage.

A spokesman for Gilligan said the final figure would be about $1,012,000 after subtracting a $28,000 phone company deposit and $25,744 that was spent paying off a primary debt. The spending limit is $1,065,201, based on 10 cents per resident in Ohio.

Meanwhile, a recount of Gilligan's 11,414 vote loss to former Gov. James A. Rhodes began today in Ohio's 13,000 plus polling places.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who has directed county election commissioners to report final results to him by the middle of next week, said he hopes to announce final results by Dec. 19 or 20.

Brown arrived at the $1,065,736 figure by adding the $258,120 amount and an outstanding debt of $32,754 to an October 24 report of $774,862. The latter figure was for the period between the primary and Oct. 16.

The Gilligan campaign showed a balance on hand of $43,395.

Gilligan filed expenses for the post election period on Friday, a full two weeks before the Dec. 20 deadline. Rhodes has not yet filed his final report, a spokesman for Brown said.

Organ Recital Planned Sunday

An organ recital is planned for 4 p.m. Sunday given by Thomas Sullivan at First Presbyterian Church in Circleville.

Sullivan is director of music at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. He is a 1962 graduate of Westminster Choir College and has studied under Mary Kimmel, Dr. Alex McCurdy, Dr. Carl Weinrich and Virgil Fox. The public is invited.

THE FIRST STEPS OF OPERATION AWARE

The President says that inflation is Domestic Enemy Number One. And here's how A & P is going to help you fight it. We're starting a new consumer program called Operation Aware. Because we're aware of the problems every consumer is facing today. These are the first steps we're taking to fight them.

1. AN EARLY WARNING SYSTEM ON PRICE INCREASES: THE AWARE LIST.

Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases such as those received from manufacturers a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price — subject, of course, to product availability. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items, with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily; items controlled by law; or advertised specials. So before you plan your next week's shopping list, check this week's Aware List.

2. A PRICE FREEZE ON A&P PRIVATE LABELS.

A & P voluntarily has put a ceiling on over 1000 A & P Products. (Smaller stores may not regularly stock all items, but a list is available in all stores.) That means prices will go no higher at least until the end of the year, on many products that you use every day. . . bread, cheese, pasta, coffee, non-fat dry milk, frozen potatoes, rice, tuna fish, fruit cocktail, frozen dinners and canned peas and corn. Advertised specials below the freeze prices will still be offered. We've put the freeze on our private labels because they represent the best values in our stores. And we'll hold down prices, even if our ingredient costs go up.

3. OUR 13 POINT CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

It's our continuing commitment to making you an Aware shopper by reminding you of what every A & P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs going up inside A & P stores spelling out all the protection A & P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction 2. Exceptional Value. 3. Low Price With Absolutely No Compromise in Quality 4. Rain check-Product Availability 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating 6. Consumer Information 7. Courteous Service 8. Cleanliness 9. Safe And Healthy Products 10. Shopping Convenience 11. The Butcher's Pledge 12. Variety of Choice and 13. People To People Communication.

WE OWE YOU MORE THAN JUST FOOD.

OUR PRICING POLICY

Our customers receive the benefit of the lowest possible prices for the longest period of time possible through our "no price re-mark" policy. Prices of items already on the shelves are not increased although new shipments of the same products may come into the stores at new higher prices. Lower priced items are moved to the front of the shelves so customers have the opportunity of buying these first. As prices increase, the higher price is stamped only on items used to restock shelves. Customers immediately benefit from any price decreases. When a new shipment of a product comes into the stores at a new lower price, all items, including those on the shelf marked at a higher price, are marked with the lower price. Items sold as specials are the only exception to the new pricing policy. Any item that is not sold during the period when it is marked at a special low price is re-marked the usual selling price. We feel this policy helps our customers who are concerned about rapidly rising prices. Anyone who has any questions about our pricing policy may call Betty Brown, Consumer Consultant, at 614-221-5361, or write Betty Brown, c/o Big Bear Stores Co., 770 W. Goodale Blvd., Columbus, Ohio 43212.

TV Jumps To Top Of Metro; Blasts Grandview, 60-53

Teays Valley, disposing of pesky Grandview 60-53 Tuesday night, found themselves in the Metro lead as Olen tangy downed previously unbeaten Franklin Heights 66-60.

The win gives Coach Bob Hoover's crew a 3-0 league mark and 4-1 overall slate.

Franklin Heights slipped into a three-way tie for second with Olen tangy and Hamilton Twp. They all have 2-1 records. Grandview, West Jefferson, and Dublin are 1-2 in the league and Marysville is winless in three starts.

Shoddy free throw shooting by the Bobcats and heady team play by Teays Valley paved the way for the win.

Grandview shot one more bucket from the floor than did Teays Valley, but the Bobcats connected on only seven of 21 foul shots for 33 per cent while the Vikings hit 16 of 28.

For the Vikings, it was a real team effort. "We were ragged in spots," Coach Bob Hoover said, "but also played good ball at times. The big thing is that we won."

Grandview's pressure defense kept Teays Valley stymied early in the game. The 1-2-2 zone was apparently used to equalize a height difference and made for rough, fast action.

Ability to crash and control the boards made the difference. TV, paced by George Spohn with 15 and Terry Collins with 11, outrebounded Grandview 43-24.

Coach Hoover was responsible for the Vikes coolness on the floor. The Viking players, aching to run with the ball, worked the corners patiently against Grandview's zone to pull the Bobcats from the basket and make rebounding easier.

Teays Valley cashed in 22 of 59 shots from the floor for a 37 per cent shooting night, while Grandview made 23 of 58 for 39 per cent. The Vikings had 24 turnovers compared with 13 for the Bobcats.

After a slow start that had Grandview taking a 3-0 lead, the first period ended in a 10-10 tie. However, the Vikes opened up their offense in the second quarter to take a 27-20 lead into halftime.

Early in the third period, with TV leading 31-21, Grandview scored 11 straight points to take the lead with 4:02 to play, 32-31. But TV's Kevin Pettibone and the Bobcats' Chris McCabe traded baskets before Lee Stiles dumped in a missed shot with 1:57 left to regain the lead for good.

Chuck Glitt expanded it to 37-34 with 36 seconds left, but Doug Perry banked one in for Grandview that cut the margin to one point as the final period got underway.

And that's when the veteran Vikings took over.

Terry Collins scored 10 points in the final period, Pettibone cashed in seven, George Spohn had four, and Stiles hit for two to offset the fine outside shooting and hustle of the Bobcats.

Grandview made an attempt to come back late in the game when McCabe dropped in a shot from the corner with 1:22 left that cut TV's lead to 56-51.

After stealing the inbounds pass, Grandview lost the ball however, and Stiles sailed in with a fast break to up the margin to seven.

The Bobcats stole and scored before Spohn speared a missed free throw with 32 seconds left, fired an outlet pass to Glitt who charged down the court, and then held up. Collins took his pass and was fouled, converting two shots at the foul line that sunk the Bobcats.

Terry Collins, middle-man in the Viking offense, scored 18 points on seven baskets and four free throws.

Kevin Pettibone dropped in 15, Spohn had 10, Glitt and Stiles had seven each, and Bill Browning had three.

Chris McCabe led the Bobcats with 20 points on 10 field goals.

Joe Trimble, who kept Grandview in the first half, finished with 14 and Mike Heine had nine.

Marty Vaughn, Grandview's center, had three points and collected nine rebounds.

Teays Valley will get to test their newly-acquired league lead right away as they travel to Franklin Heights Friday for an important game with the Falcons.

SUMMARY

GRANDVIEW — Heine, 4-1-9; McCabe, 10-0-20; Perry, 2-0-4; Trimble, 5-4-14; Berkley, 1-1-3; Vaughn, 1-1-3. Totals, 23-7-53.

TEAYS VALLEY — Collins, 7-4-18; Stiles, 2-3-7; Browning, 1-1-3; Pettibone, 4-7-15; Glitt, 3-1-7; Spohn, 5-0-10. Totals, 22-16-60.

Reserve Game — Grandview 44, Teays Valley 40.

PASS THROUGH ZONE—Kevin Pettibone leaps off the court to toss a pass to Chuck Glitt (12) under the Teays Valley basket during action in Tuesday's 60-53 Viking win over Grandview. Other Vikings in the picture are Terry Collins (20), Lee Stiles (50), and George Spohn, partially blocked. Bobcat defenders are Doug Perry (12), Mike Heine (20), Mike Burkley (14), and Joey Trimble (23). The win, coupled with Franklin Heights' loss to Olen tangy, puts the Vikings in the Metro League driver's seat.

NFL Playoff Sites Unsettled

NEW YORK (AP) — Set aside your pocket computers, slide rules and ouija boards, football fans. Nobody — not even Commissioner Pete Rozelle — knows where the Washington Redskins and St. Louis Cardinals will open their drives for the National Football League title.

The other six teams in the playoffs don't have that problem. The Oakland Raiders know they can expect a visit from the Miami Dolphins for an American Conference playoff game on Dec. 21, and AFC Central winner Pittsburgh will host the wild-card Buffalo Bills the next day in the other

AFC firstround game.

The National Conference Central champion Minnesota Vikings and NFC West-winning Los Angeles Rams are preparing unfriendly welcomes for somebody — but they won't know for whom until sometime late Sunday afternoon.

By then, the Redskins will have played the Chicago Bears and the Cardinals will have concluded the New York Giants' season and each of the playoff-bound NFC teams will know what to tell their travel agents.

Should the Cardinals win, they'll take the East Division title and pack their long underwear for a trip to Minnesota's frozen northlands on Dec. 21. Even if Washington beats the Giants and finishes with a 10-4 record — same as St. Louis — the Cardinals would take the title for having beaten the Redskins twice this season.

Washington, as a result, can send their short-sleeved uniforms to the balmy West Coast for the Dec. 22 NFC playoff game.

The conference semifinal winners will meet on Dec. 29 to decide which two owners will have to foot the bills for a trip to New Orleans and Super Bowl IX on Jan. 12. But the sites for the conference championships won't be decided until there is one shopping day left before Christmas.

In the AFC, championship cities with priority belong to the West, Central and East in that order. So if Oakland beats Miami, they'll get the game; if Miami wins, they'd get the game, but only if Buffalo beats Pittsburgh. If the Dolphins and Steelers both win, the AFC title will be decided in Pittsburgh.

The NFC priority, meanwhile, is East, Central and West. Thus, with St. Louis or Washington playing Minnesota, the winner of that game will host the championship.

Simple, isn't it?

Top MAC Players Announced By Media

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Miami of Ohio took the Mid-American Conference football honors announced Tuesday, with middle guard Brad Cousino as Defensive Player of the Year and his mentor, Dick Crum, as Coach of the Year.

Quarterback Gene Swick of Toledo was selected by the news media in a poll as Offensive Player of the Year.

President In Attendance At Grid Hall Of Fame Rites

NEW YORK (AP) — President Gerald R. Ford presented a football award to comedian Bob Hope Tuesday night and then heard himself roasted as "the first American ever sent to Siberia."

Hope referred to the President's recent trip "to Japan, Korea and Russia — three places the Republicans carried in the last election."

The President and Hope spoke at the 17th annual awards dinner of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, where Ford presented the foundation's Distinguished American Award to the comedian.

Before introducing Hope, the President compared the nation's economic crisis to football and said the American people must be careful not to lose their desire to win.

"We are in a great struggle to maintain our economic well-being," he said. "In the battle against inflation there are no playoffs or wait-'til-next-year. It's winner take all. Winning is a very small word. Let's be careful not to lose it."

The President, who was center and captain of the 1934 University of Michigan football team, said winning is "the ultimate reason any of us have for going into a competitive sport."

"As much as I enjoyed the physical and emotional dividends that college athletics brought me, I sincerely doubt if I ever suited up ... without the total commitment of going out there to win, not to get exercise, gold or glory, but simply to win."

After the presentation to Hope, the National Football Foundation's Gold Medal Award, its highest individual honor, went to Gerald B. Zornow, chairman of the board of Eastman Kodak Co. and a former player at the University of Rochester. Ford, a Congressman at the time, was the 1972 recipient.

Ten new members were inducted into the college football Hall of Fame while 11 scholar-athletes also were honored.

The 10 new inductees are the late Harry Agganis, Boston University; John Ferraro, Southern California; Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, Wisconsin and Michigan; the late Barton Koch, Baylor; Mal Kutner, Texas; Jim Parker, Ohio State; Barney Poole, Mississippi, North Carolina and West Point; Marcy Schwartz, Notre Dame; Billy Vessels, Oklahoma, and Bill Murray, former coach at Delaware and Duke.

Ford joined in the laughter when Hope said the President was "very busy trying to find a way to veto Ohio State's trip to the Rose Bowl." Ohio State was selected to represent the Big Ten Conference in the Rose Bowl over Michigan, the President's alma mater.

Hope noted that Ford was a center in his football-playing days — i.e., bent forward over the ball — and quipped that "a lot of guys on Capitol Hill would love to get him in that position again."

Soap Box Derby Set For Next Year

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The general manager of the All-American Soap Box Derby, Ron Baker, says the derby still is looking for a national sponsor but definitely will be back next year.

Baker said Tuesday interest is increasing and 130 to 150 youths will participate in the derby finals next Aug. 16.

That is about half again as many as competed in the 1974 derby.

Golfer Lee Trevino won the 1971 and 1972 British Opens.

Freshmen, 8th Graders Rip WCH

The Circleville freshmen and 8th grade teams topped Washington C.H. Tuesday.

The freshmen, paced by Toren Bensonhaver's 14 points, ripped WCH 49-17.

"We used a good basic man-to-man defense," Circleville Coach Jim Diltz said.

That defense led Circleville to a 12-0 first period lead, 23-2 lead at the half, and 31-6 margin after three periods of play.

Besides Bensonhaver, Mike Edgington canned seven points, Mark Albright hit for five, Roy Huffer and Dave Marshall had four each, Jeff Meena, Joe Mogan, and Perry Oberly had three each, and Mike McKelvey, Mark Beck, and Larry Reed had two each.

Next game for the 2-0 freshmen will be 4:30 Thursday when they host Greenfield in the Mill St. gym.

Butch McFarland came off the bench and sparked the Circleville eighth grade basketball team to a 35-24 decision over Washington C.H. Tuesday.

McFarland scored 10 points and grabbed 11 rebounds in his reserve role. He was the game's leading scorer and shared rebounding honors with Jeff Strawser who also hooped six points for the Tigers.

Rounding out the Circleville scoring, Kevin Woltz notched four, Tim Pontious looped in five, Pat Poorman scored four, Mark Ranck, Peter Harrison and Barry Keller scored two each.

For the losers, Jones tallied eight, Lee and Pritchett five, Uptigrove four, McDonald and Blake one each.

Leading all the way, the Tiger eighth graders were on top 4-2 at the end of the first quarter, 19-14 at halftime, 27-15 after three periods.

The local eighth graders have a 2-0 record and travel to Greenfield Thursday.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Before you get engulfed in the yuletide rush of specials, let us give you a handy shopping list of 16 new evening series you may want to check out as they check in from now through March.

CBS has four shows, one of which, "Tony Orlando and Dawn," began its Wednesday night run on Dec. 4 after first appearing as a summer musical variety series. NBC has five new shows and ABC seven.

Here's where and when the new shows will appear:

MONDAY — ABC, which now starts off with "The Rookies," will have three hours of cop shows by the end of February. "Caribe," about a Miami gendarme fighting Caribbean crime, arrives Feb. 17. A week later, "S.W.A.T.," based on the Los Angeles Police Department's elite special weapons and tactical team, joins the ranks of TV crime-stoppers. At NBC, the Smothers Brothers, whose shows gave CBS censors a pain in the neck a few seasons ago, try again with a regular music-comedy series which starts Jan. 13.

TUESDAY — Nothing new afoot.

WEDNESDAY — Only CBS' "Tony Orlando and Dawn" is new fare.

THURSDAY — At NBC, "The Mac Davis Show," a music-variety summer entry, has a brief run, starting Dec. 19, but gives up its hour-long slot in mid-March to make way for two half-hour shows, "Sunshine," about a young musician raising an orphan girl, and "The Bob Crane Show," about a successful businessman returning to medical school. (NBC says the Davis show may be back next fall as a regular series).

"Archer," a private eye series based on the Ross MacDonald thrillers, also will check in at NBC on Thursday nights, starting Jan. 30.

The only other Thursday newcomer is "Barney Miller," an ABC sitcom about a Manhattan police captain. It starts on Jan. 16.

FRIDAY — At CBS, "Khan," an hour-long gumshoe series set in San Francisco's Chinatown, arrives on Feb. 7. ABC has two sitcoms — "Hot L Baltimore," about a seedy hotel's inhabitants, and "Karen," about a Washington, D.C., career girl — arriving on Jan. 24.

On Jan. 17, ABC will start "Baretta," a retooled version of last season's "Toma" detective series. Retooled may mean only a new star, Robert Blake, who has Tony Musante's old role.

SATURDAY — On Jan. 11, ABC adds another lineup of made-for-TV and theatrical movies to join those it now shows on Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. At CBS, Jan. 18 will mark the premiere of "The Jeffersons," a black family sitcom spun off from "All in the Family." It'll appear right after the Bunkers' half hour.

SUNDAY — On Feb. 16, a Sonny-less Cher Bono kicks off her own music-variety show on CBS, with hopes for far higher ratings than were achieved by ex-husband Sonny in his solo ABC variety show, which has been canceled.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Tricky in spots, day will demand close attention to details, efficient planning and good follow-through. Avoid making rash promises.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Search for a more distinctive, more strategic way to push your interests. They can be handled with greater ease if you depend on your own judgment.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Try to put over your ideas, but not too aggressively or you may alienate others. Show your willingness to work WITH them.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You may face some petty annoyances. Shake them off with a philosophical attitude and settle down to serious work. Much can be accomplished now.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You have the inside track in a number of ways — if you will just recognize opportunities, many then set out to make the most of them.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): In whatever you do or say, emphasize your most charming manner, which can an outright opposition, help prevent friction. News of interest indicated.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): This day will be a far better one than you may anticipate at first. Be enthusiastic, but not hurried; resolute, but not obstinate. You have much to gain.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Plan your schedule in orderly fashion, lest things trivial or witless interject their time-wasting tunes. A day for concentrating on essentials — and HUMOR!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Quite unexpectedly you may find the solution to a difficult problem. Another's casual words could put you on the right track.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Group activity highly favored. Stars indicate now is the time for you to make some exciting new contacts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Give careful thought to financial affairs — not only business-wise but where your personal budget is concerned. Don't let mere whim direct your purchases.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Present conditions may not warrant the expansion you have in mind. Go slow if conservative opposition arises.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a high order of intellect; are objective and keenly analytical in your thinking. Many professions are open to you, but you would probably make your greatest success in the law and, as a judge, could attain great eminence. You could also succeed as a statesman, diplomat, journalist or, in the theatrical world, as a dramatic actor.

Whatever your career, however, you can become a "power" — not only in your own environs, but far afield. Birthdate of: John Jay, early Amer. statesman; Gustave Flaubert, Fr. novelist; Frank Sinatra singer; Edward G. Robinson, film star.

Coalfield Picket Ends; Miners Back In Pits

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Virtually all of the nation's coal miners were back on their jobs today after striking construction workers began dropping their picket lines Tuesday afternoon.

An estimated 28,000 soft coal miners had been kept from returning to work on Monday because of picketing by the United Mine Workers union's 4,500 members employed by firms belonging to the Association of Bituminous Contractors.

The union's 120,000 miner members last week approved a new contract with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. after being off their jobs since their old contract expired on Nov. 12. But a separate agreement for the construction workers was not reached until Tuesday morning.

The union's 38-member bargaining council is scheduled to meet in Washington today to decide whether the accord should be submitted to the workers or sent back to the bargaining table. A UMW spokesman said that with a vote this weekend, the construction workers could be back on their jobs by next Monday.

Tuesday afternoon it looked as if the construction workers were going to continue their picketing until ratification of their settlement. But a telegram from UMW President Arnold Miller to local unions throughout the coalfields brought down the lines.

Virtually all of Virginia's 8,700 coal miners returned to work Tuesday following announcement of the tentative accord. District 28 Secretary Fred Wilson said about 4,000 UMW members in Virginia had been honoring the construction workers' picket lines.

A spokesman for Consolidation Coal Co. said the 1,600 men employed at its seven mines in southern West Virginia reported to work on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift Tuesday after the picketing ceased.

He also said the back-to-work movement was evident in northern West Virginia after seven of 11 Consol mines there reopened at the same time. He said the other four mines would likely reopen today.

3 Sextuplets Still Survive

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The three survivors of Charlotte Lange's sextuplets still cling to their fragile grip on life.

The infants — Jason Wesley, Brian Walter and Jolene Rene — maintained their stable condition today and their medical prognosis remained guarded, said a nursing supervisor at Valley Medical Center.

Two other of the tiny, two-pound children — Corey William and Kelly Irene — died within five hours of each other Tuesday. The girl died of respiratory and heart failure and the boy succumbed to respiratory complications, doctors said.

A third infant, John, died four hours after Mrs. Lange gave birth to the sextuplets within a 45-minute period Sunday morning. They were born three months premature and ranged in weight from 1 pound, 15 ounces to 2½ pounds.

Pesticide Panel Slates Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Pesticide Education Association's annual meeting will be held in Columbus Jan. 8-9 at Ohio State University's Fawcett Center for Tomorrow.

Paul Slade, association administrative secretary, said the highlight of the two-day conference will be explanation and discussion of the new federal pesticide regulations. Slade said more than 500 chemical company representatives, custom applicators, farmers and university pesticide experts will attend.

Mom Smothers Cheetah Cubs

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Zoo officials have forgiven Circe for the deaths of four of her first five cubs and are giving the mother Cheetah a second chance with her remaining baby.

Zoo Director Ed Maruska said the multiple deaths were not rare for the wild or in captivity because motherhood among cheetahs is not all that distinctive. Only two other zoos have been able to successfully raise newborn cheetahs.

Dr. Jerry Theobald, veterinarian, blamed the deaths of three of the cubs born over the weekend on over-protectiveness by Circe. She smothered them after feeding them, he said.

Elks Hold Memorial Service

SPEAKER—The Rev. David P. Frazer, left, of Community United Methodist Church, was the speaker at the annual memorial services of the Circleville BPO Elks. Exalted Ruler William A. Bennett, right, conducted the service.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 77 held its annual Memorial Day Service 2 p.m. Sunday, at the lodge.

Approximately 70 people attended the service which was dedicated to all the deceased members of the Circleville Lodge. Special tribute was paid to: George F. (Pete) Eitel, Wesley M. Edstrom Sr., Emanuel E. Rothman, Thomas O. Gilliland, Harry D. Coss, Barton Deming, I. Lutz May, Harry W. Heffner, and Harold R. Wolford.

Exalted Ruler William A. Bennett conducted the service and Rev. David F. Frazer of the Community United Methodist Church was the guest speaker.

Organist Richard Plum provided the music along with four special selections, "Amazing Grace," "How Great Thou Art," "I Believe," and "Now The Day Is Over," by the Elk Singers under the direction of Terry Anderson.

Following the service a reception was held with Mrs. Joseph Rooney and Mrs. Robert Liggett presiding at the punch bowls.

House Gets Rockefeller Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — House speaker Carl Albert predicts the House will follow the Senate's example of voting overwhelmingly to confirm Nelson A. Rockefeller as the nation's second non-elected vice president.

The House Judiciary Committee is scheduled to vote Thursday on whether to recommend that the nomination be approved. The full House is expected to vote next week.

Albert made his unofficial prediction at a news conference after the Senate voted 90 to 7 Tuesday to confirm the nomination.

The 66-year-old former New York governor was nominated by President Ford 114 days ago, a time lapse that caused several senators to question the workability of the 25th amendment to the Constitution which governs presidential succession.

Ford became the first non-elected vice president when he was confirmed by Congress to succeed Spiro T. Agnew, who resigned.

The seven senators who voted against the nomination said they did so for a variety of reasons, including Rockefeller's political philosophy, his family's billion-dollar wealth, and alleged improprieties of Rockefeller's large gifts and loans to political associates.

Three of the seven senators generally are regarded as conservatives. They are Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.; Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and William L. Scott, R-Va.

The other four are regarded as liberals: Sens. James S. Abourezk, D-S.D.; Birch Bayh, D-Ind.; Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., who was defeated for re-election in the November elections, voted "present" because Rockefeller donated $500 to his campaign.

"If I had voted for him some people would say it was because of the contribution and if I voted against him others would say I was an ingrate, so I decided not to vote at all," Dominick said.

Deny Stew Presents Hazard

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — Officials of Krey Packing Co. have denied that canned beef stew put out by a Tennessee division presents a health hazard, despite a government recall to protect consumers against possible botulism poisoning.

The Agriculture Department on Tuesday ordered the recall of beef stew canned by Kelly Foods of Jackson, a division of Krey.

In a statement issued at the home office in St. Louis, Krey officials said the firms had agreed to the recall voluntarily "even though it results from the unfortunate condition of only one can."

Federal officials said the recall was issued "as a precautionary measure until the safety of these products can be assured." The recall followed the botulism death last week of an elderly Georgia woman who had eaten a can of beef stew packed under the Kroger label by Kelly Foods.

The victim, Cleo Harris, 79, of Griffin, Ga., became ill after eating the stew on Thanksgiving Day.

The recall extended to all seven brands of canned beef stew packed by Kelly Foods: Kelly, Krey, AQ, Thrifty Maid, Kroger, Allen Pride, Hermitage, Lancaster and Porter.

Agriculture spokesmen said all cans of the product being recalled will have the number "Est. 712" on the can lid or bottom. These include cans containing 7½, 15, 24, and 40 ounces as well as an institutional can of 6½ pounds. Officials said they believe only one day's production was involved.
